*Some courses use a format created by instructors or the department instead of the format above. There will be separate guidance for such courses, so please check "Exam and Report Information", "message" from your instructor, and the original website of the affiliated department carefully, and submit it in the appropriate format for each course as instructed.

*In the case of courses that require students to submit reports using the University's prescribed format, please be sure to fill in all the fields on the first page and submit it along with the body of the report to the designated address, even if "Cover sheet" field in the report information is marked "Not necessary".

4. When using a shared PC, the sign-in information of the previous user may be retained. Please make sure that you are logged in with your own user ID when submitting reports via e-class, E-Mail, Microsoft Forms, etc. If the ID is different from your user ID, you will not be able to be properly evaluated.
5. When submitting a report, please be sure to check that you have sent the correct content and file beforehand.
6. No late essays or reports will be accepted.

When you submit reports on the web (e-class, E-Mail, Microsoft Forms, etc.), there is a possibility that you may not be able to submit by the deadline due to delays in operation and email delivery caused by system failure or access congestion. Please allow ample time to submit your reports.

7. The following acts will be considered as suspected plagiarism. If you are confirmed by the faculty council to have plagiarized submitted course work, you will fail (students enrolled in or after 2004) or receive 0 points (students enrolled in or before 2003) for all of the courses that you have registered for in the semester concerned, and the decision will also be publicly announced (Certain courses as designated by the faculty council are excluded from this measure.).
